Armstrong Defeats Martin in Democratic Race.

Capturing practically every district in the county, William J. Barlow, East Liverpool insurance and real estate broker, won the four-cornered race for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Columbiana county in yesterday's primary election. F. C. Armstrong, Elkrun township farmer, who defeated Edward E. Martin, East Liverpool, for the Democratic nomination, will oppose Barlow at the November 6 election.

Cartwright is Third.

Barlow piled up leads over Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsavter, Lisbon, runner-up, in East Liverpool and the Wellsville, Salem, East Palestine and the Lisbon districts. Thomas H. Cartwright, Sallenville potter, was third. J. E. Armstrong trailed. Barlow's plurality was 2,215. The unofficial vote for the county was: Barlow, 6,742; Kindsavter, 4,527; Cartwright, 1,696; Armstrong, 1,130.

John E. Noble, deputy clerk of courts for three years, defeated Clyde Barlow, Lisbon grocer, and James Elliott, deputy sheriff, for the Republican nomination for clerk of courts. The unofficial vote was: Noble, 5,512; Barlow, 4,408; Elliott, 3,191. Noble carried East Liverpool, Wellsville and Salem, where he lived before going to Lisbon. The Lisbon district supported Barlow, but his JAPANESE statesmanship has adopted with other western ideas this motto, Divide et impera, "Divide and govern." That was the motto of Louis the Eleventh of France, who said the more his nobles fought each other, the greater would be his power.

Japan divides China by forbidding Manchuria, where Japan has heavy interests and investments, to join with China's National government.

FIVE nights in succession Great Britain's air forces will wage make-believe war against the great city of London, a war of deadly gas that could kill every human being in London or New York in a few hours.

One hundred and fifty planes will attack, while hundreds of machine guns, anti-aircraft guns, searchlights and sound detectors will see what they can do to meet the attack. Instead of real gas or TNT bombs, imitation bombs will be dropped.

IN America we have a simpler plan, borrowed from a great African authority. We didn't borrow it from Hannibal, ancient Carthaginian hero, but from that noble denizen of the desert, the ostrich. When he is frightened, or sees danger, according to tradition, he buries his head in the sand. His theory is that if he doesn't see the danger, the danger can't see him.

WHILE Pilsudski, most powerful man in Poland, addressed his veterans, Russia's navy was making a display of power off Lithuania. That annoys Europe.

Russia's navy isn't big, but it is more powerful than that of Germany, since her defeat.

Russia owns some modern battle-ships, with names curious to us. One is called "October Revolution." Another "Paris Commune."

More important to Russia and Europe is the fact that aviation is taught in the Russian public schools, and a Bolshevik flying organization, studying aeronautics, has 5,000,000 members.

Pottery Owners Suggest Ending Collective Bargaining.

HIT PROPOSALS Conference Probably Will Adjourn on Saturday.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 15.—The biennial general conference between the United States Pottery Association and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters may break up without reaching an agreement for this branch of the pottery industry, it was hinted here today.

This possibility was indicated when the manufacturers placed before the brotherhood committee the proposition to cease collective bargaining and individual manufacturers would in the future deal independently with their own workmen.

James M. Duffy, of East Liverpool, O., president of the brotherhood, refused to discuss the matter. "The proposal is an answer to demands for increased wages by the workmen," W. E. Wells, of Newell, W. Va., chairman of the labor committee of the manufacturers, declared. "There is nothing further to add at this time," Wells asserted. "We have submitted the plan of the brotherhood and they are going to caucus on it. Just what the outcome of this conference will be is uncertain."

The brotherhood is asking for increases of from nine to 11 per cent for kilnmen, dippers and warehousemen. Other demands include shorter working hours and regulations intended to bring about improved working conditions.

It is expected that the conference will adjourn by the end of the week.

FIVE TOURISTS UNHURT IN CRASH

Five Chicago tourists escaped injury when the automobile in which they were riding overturned on its side between Crawford's corners and West Point at 6:30 o'clock last night.

The motor car, driven by H. Perakis, who was accompanied by Mrs. Perakis, another man and his wife and a third woman, was traveling toward Lisbon, when one of the front tires blew out. Perakis said that he was unable to control the car and it struck the hillside on the right of the road.

The machine was taken to a Lisbon garage for repairs.

THREE YOUTHS ARE HELD AS SUSPECTS IN NARCOTIC RING

Two E. Liverpool Men Arrested Near Steubenville.

PLEAD GUILTY

Shots Fired as Prisoners Attempt to Escape.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15.—Belief that federal agents have broken up one of the largest "dope rings" in this section of the country was expressed by Chief Narcotic Agent Robert Artie here today, following the arrest of three men near Steubenville.

The three arrested gave their names as Sylvester Warnacci, 40, of Bellaire, alleged ring leader; Francis C. Gordon and Harold Milligan, both of East Liverpool. When arraigned at Steubenville they pleaded guilty and were held under $15,000 bond each.

Artie charges they had been operating extensively in Martins Ferry, Wheeling, Bridgeport, Steubenville, Bellaire, Toledo, Cincinnati and New York, the latter city presumably being the source of the drug supply.

The prisoners, Artie said, are also expected to plead guilty when they come up for trial. Milligan and Gordon sought to escape in an automobile, Artie reported. Several shots were exchanged, he said, but no one was wounded.

Swan was taken to the hospital and then removed to his home where Dr. H. A. Turck attended him. Patrolman Norman McFarland investigated the accident.

Swan was on his way to the No. 4 Laughlin plant, Newell, where he is employed as a kiln fireman, when the accident occurred.

THOMAS TURNEY FATALLY BURNED

KIDNAP TWO, STEAL GEMS

Jewelry Salesmen Report Loss of $100,000.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—A long distance kidnaping and robbery episode, which netted the perpetrators $100,000 in uncut gems, terminated in Wheaton, Ill., West Chicago suburb, early today.

The two victims, Morris Keen, a New York jewelry salesman, and Elmer Kibbett, taxicab driver, were found at dawn on the outskirts of Wheaton by Joseph Meyer, a farmer. The men were in an automobile, bound hand and foot, handcuffed and blindfolded.

They told police they had been kidnaped in Omaha, Neb., late yesterday, and had been on the road, as helpless captives all night.

BABY BLIMP ARRIVES HERE

Goodyear Dirigible, "Puritan."

Goodyear Dirigible Crew Visits Airport

"Puritan" Soars Over City after Trip From Akron — Fliers Guests at Luncheon.

Enroute to the Chamber of Commerce airport in Madison township, where it will be on exhibit this afternoon, the Goodyear "Puritan" blimp, sailed over East Liverpool at 11 o'clock this morning.

As the craft soared at a height of 1,000 feet over the town section, hundreds of persons gazed skyward. A monoplane from the airport flew over the city a few minutes before the dirigible arrived. The craft flew the Ohio river, then soared over East End and back to the airport, where it landed at 11:30 o'clock.

Members of the crew and other Akron visitors, who accompanied the blimp, were greeted by members of the aviation committee of the chamber upon their arrival at the airport. They were entertained at luncheon at the Travelers' hotel at noon.

This afternoon the dirigible was to take to the air again for a short trip with Chamber of Commerce directors aboard. The cabin of the blimp has a capacity for six passengers in addition to the pilot. It is approximately 128 feet in length, 37 feet in diameter and holds 56,000 cubic feet of helium gas. The craft was placed in commission only about two weeks ago.

The "Puritan" will return to Akron at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Visit of the dirigible was arranged through the efforts of William State, chief engineer for the Goodyear company and a brother of E. J. State, local physical culturist. E. J. State went to Akron yesterday and accompanied the craft to East Liverpool.

Three planes from the New Castle Air corporation's field came here today to engage in the passenger-carrying business.

A small plane delivering papers for a Youngstown newspaper, landed at the airport at 7:30 o'clock this morning with its gasoline supply near exhaustion. A supply of gas was rushed from East Liverpool and the plane after being delayed for about an hour started for Steubenville.

"It is a fitting consummation for the first decade of peace," he told the crowd of ten thousand assembled on the race track of the fair grounds.

Myers Y. Cooper Gains In Republican Fight; 1208 Precincts Count

Belated Returns Reduced Congressman's Earlier Plurality of About 13,000 as Tabulations From 7,527 Zones are Reported by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown.

AVAILABLE FIGURES SHOW VICTORY FOR SANDUSKY MAN IN STATE RACE

Columbus Statisticians, However, Say Official Count Probably Will be Required to Determine Nominee as Considerable Part of Missing Ballots are in Cooper Territory.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15.—Congressman James T. Begg, Sandusky, was leading Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, this afternoon for the Republican gubernatorial nomination by 6,756 votes, according to unofficial returns tabulated at the offices of Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown.

Returns from 7,527 of Ohio's approximately 8,735 precincts gave: Begg, 224,000; Cooper, 217,244; Turner, 79,226.

An earlier tabulation had given Begg a lead of about 13,000 votes over Cooper, but belated returns reduced Begg's plurality materially.

While estimating that, from available figures, Begg may have a lead of between 3,000 and 4,000 votes when the returns are complete, Secretary of State Brown stood pat this afternoon in his belief that it may require the official count to determine whether Begg or Cooper is the G. O. P. gubernatorial nominee.

If this proves to be the case it will be a couple of days at least before Ohio Republicans will know who they have selected as their choice for governor.

Known Lieutenant Governor, T. Brown, a recently been nominated by the Republicans for the full term as lieutenant governor, on the basis of available returns, is the Republican nominee for the unexpired term as lieutenant governor, to serve from a date shortly after the November election.

When the candidates elected for the full term will assume the duties of that office.

Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, appeared to have won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination easily. Unofficial figures at the secretary of state's office at 8 a. m. gave Davey a lead of 34,168 over Commerce Director Earl D. Bloom.

There was no candidate on the Democratic primary ballot for short term as Lieutenant governor.

Nominations were made also at yesterday's primary election of candidates for congress, state senate, Ohio house of representatives, judges of appellate, common pleas and probate courts, sheriff, county commissioner, county commissioner, county treasurer, county surveyor, prosecuting attorney and coroner in the 88 counties of the state.

Begg Carries 30 Counties

It was pointed out that the missing returns from about 1208 precincts are scattered throughout the state with a considerable part to come from territory believed to have supported Cooper. It is upon this situation that election authorities based their expectation that Begg's lead will be further reduced.

With no returns available from Ottawa of Washington counties, incomplete unofficial returns at the secretary of state's office indicated that Begg carried 30 of Ohio's counties, Turner carried one, and Cooper carried the remaining 55.

Turner carried Franklin county, Begg was believed to have carried Carroll, Crawford, Cuyahoga, Delaware, Erie, Hancock, Henry, Huron, Lawrence, Lorain, Lucas, Marion, Medina, Monroe, Morrow, Paulding, Pike, Putnam, Richland, Ross, Sandusky, Seneca, Stark, Summit, Trumbull, Tuscarawas, Wood and Wyandot counties.

In his unsuccessful contest with Davey for the Democratic nomination for Governor, Bloom carried only six counties—Brown, Crawford, Hancock, Putnam, Wood and Wyandot—it was indicated by the returns received by the secretary of state.

Members of Republican and Democratic state and county central committees, also, were elected yesterday.

Returns showing the votes cast for these candidates were not available at the secretary of state's office.

Locher is Defeated

Returns from all except 1,283 of Ohio's 8,735 precincts indicated the defeat of U. S. Senator Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, by Attorney Graham P. Hunt, Cincinnati, by 14,780 votes for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator (short term).

Unofficial figures from 7,452 precincts gave: Hunt, 83,544; Locher, 74,764.

Although Senator Locher was listed as "satisfactory" to officials and members of Ohio dry organizations, he publicly announced his support of the candidacy of Gov. Al Smith, New York.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The motor stocks were the center of speculative interest at the beginning of trading today. Persistent demand for Chrysler, Packard, Hupp and Hudson resulted in new advances of a point or two, and short covering in General Motors forced that stock up about 3 points to 179 1/4. Warner Brothers, Atlantic Refining and a few other bellwethers resumed their brilliant forward movement increasing output of the steel manufacturers, expansion of freight car loadings, bumper crops and maintenance of high production records in the motor-car and building construction industries induced confident buying of the market favorites in bullish quarters, while short covering also accounted for a considerable demand for General Motors, Studebaker and other stocks which have drawn the fire of the bears in recent sessions.

The remarkable strength of Chrysler and Packard has helped to attract a wide public "following" to these stocks, and buying demand from the outside points was in good volume today. Packard pushed through 80 with comparative ease, the highest price ever reached and Chrysler duplicated its former high price. Aggressive buying of Atlantic Refining was recorded around 164, up nearly 5 points from yesterday's close and 11 points from the low of the week. Warner Brothers Pictures sold in volume at 85, and International Nickel was in demand at 98 down up 2.

... to do ALL THINGS WELL—as a pencil and five cent
note book will prove

Almost every car that roams the highways and byways today is alleged to have some particular virtue in which it excels.

That you who buy these automobiles may have some basis for fair comparison, Reo makes this simple suggestion.

Try it out with each of the two, three, four, or more automobiles you demonstrate before you buy. A pencil and five cent note book can be your only tools.

After each demonstration jot down those things which impressed you most in the car you've just driven: the acceleration—the steering—the riding—the speed—the comfort—the style—or whatever the outstandingly impressive points may have been.

Do this for each car you try.

Then drive the Reo Flying Cloud of 1929 with your note book before you.

Check it on every point that each of the other cars did well. Check its top speed against the fastest of the others.

Stand off twenty feet and compare the Reo Flying Cloud's lines with the handsomest of the others.

Point it up hills which only a few of the others could climb handily.

Stop it on shorter notice than the best of the others.

Pit it against the flashiest performer you've driven when the stop light turns green. Take the rough roads faster than you dared to in the easiest riding of the other cars.

We know what your answer will be. For the Reo Flying Cloud of 1929 is built like the famous clipper ship for which it is named—built to do all things well.

Electric Cookery
tastes better

The Woman Pays.

DOMESTIC tragedies have their beginnings in small things not the least of which is tasteless or poorly prepared food. Normal, healthy people are notoriously fond of good meals and truly the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

No man can neglect an electrically cooked meal. His appetite and health improve with food cooked on an electric range. You can taste the difference.

Electric cookery, the modern method of converting raw food into palatable dishes, is beautiful, economical, clean and convenient.

Republican Ticket

The Republican party yesterday named a state, county and district ticket which should roll up a large majority in the November 6 election when it will occupy a place on the ballot with the national nominees.

Congressman James T. Begg, of Sandusky, apparently has defeated Myers Y. Cooper, of Cincinnati, for the G. O. P. gubernatorial place. The nominee, who has had many years' experience in public life, is well qualified for the place of honor on the state ticket. He will be opposed by Martin L. Davey, of Kent, Democratic nominee.

Other Republican nominees on the state ticket are also men whose training has equipped them for the places they seek.

United States Senator S. D. Foss, unopposed, was re-nominated for the long term, while Representative Theodore E. Burton, who previously served in the upper house at Washington, is the choice for the short term as senator.

Congressman Frank Murphy was re-nominated in the Eighteenth district, while State Senator Harry M. Carpenter, of Steubenville, defeated his colleague, Senator Earl R. Lewis, of St. Clairsville, for the one seat at stake in the Twentieth-Twenty-second district.

The party nominees for state representative are W. H. Van Fossan, of Lisbon, seeking a second term, and R. D. Smith, of Salliewille.

County nominees are: Common pleas judge, W. F. Lones; probate judge, Lodge Riddle; clerk of courts, John E. Noble; sheriff, William Barlow; commissioners, Frank Bye and J. C. Kelly; treasurer, Fred George; surveyor, Lloyd Kirk; prosecuting attorney, John E. Bauknecht; coroner, J. M. Van Fossan.

The Republican ticket, from top to bottom, merits the support of a united party at the polls next fall.

Quadrennial Registration

With the selection of Republican and Democratic nominees for state, district and county ticket places in yesterday's primaries, Columbiana county's deputy state supervisors of elections will turn their attention to arrangements for quadrennial registration in East Liverpool as soon as the official canvass has been made.

Preliminary to appointment of registrars, the election board today announced Thursday, Oct. 4; Thursday, Oct. 11, and Friday and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20, as dates for the general registration. These dates are fixed by law.

All citizens who expected to exercise their right of suffrage at the general election on Nov. 6, when the nation will select its next president and Ohio and Columbiana county will choose state, district and county governments, must register. Yesterday marked the last time the old registration records will be used.

Under the election laws, electors in registration cities—and East Liverpool is the only enrollment subdivision in Columbiana county—must qualify every four years, or preceding the presidential balloting.

Mark the dates, electors!

Tunney's Romance

It was not so long ago that John Joseph Tunney was asked if he expected to marry. Whereupon Mr. Tunney, in a voice which sounded somewhat plaintive, replied, if memory serves aright, that the kind of a girl he would like to wed would hardly select a prizefighter for a husband.

Announcement of Mr. Tunney's engagement to a young woman of social prominence is a refutation of that supposition. Mr. Tunney has won the girl of his choice. He has discovered that social prejudice does not extend to the prizefighter who conducts himself courageously in the ring and decently outside the ring, and who is not content to rest solely upon the somewhat temporary laurels of a world's championship.

People in this matter-of-fact world who still believe in fairy tales will here find justification for their faith. Mr. Tunney's engagement provides material for the sort of yarn frequently encountered in the story books but rarely in real life. It takes little stretch of the imagination to see Gene's romance as the oft-repeated tale of the unknown youth who wins his spurs on the field of battle and captures the heart of the princess.

Ban on "Mudslinging"

Determined to stand on the party's splendid record and the strong platform adopted at Kansas City, Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee for president, has served notice that "mudslinging" will not be permitted in his campaign. He will not countenance personalities, which have been placed under the same ban he recently put on "barnstorming" plans and "ballyhoo" programs.

Included among the practices of bygone political days in which the G. O. P. nominee will not indulge is baby-kissing. He thus throws upon an institution which is not of American origin, as Charles Dickens in his "Pickwick Papers" proves.

For example, Samuel Slumkey, candidate for representative of the borough of Eatonsville, in the commons a century ago, was counseled by his political associates not only to pat the babies on their heads, but if at all possible, to kiss them lovingly.

Emerging from the Town Arms, the Hon. Samuel encountered a great concourse of British citizenry awaiting him. This is the way Dickens relates the story:

"He has shaken hands with the men," cried the little agent. Another cheer, far more vehement. "He has patted the babies on the head," said Mr. Park, trembling with anxiety. A roar of applause that rent the air. "He has kissed one of 'em," exclaimed the delighted little man. A second roar. "He's kissing 'em all!" screamed the enthusiastic little gentleman. And, hailed by the deafening shouts of the multitude, the procession moved on."

It is even possible that the baby-kissing ruse, a political gesture designed to attract the coy, reluctant vote, was employed as a private means of currying favor with the nobility. But it is out of place in American politics.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

By Frederic J. Walsh.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—It would take a whole college of psychoanalysts to drill free from its enmeshing labyrinth of opinions what the American people are doing with themselves; especially what they have done with themselves in the last few years. Europe, as never before, is looking with eager curiosity at America and wondering what it is all about. Opinions differ as the poles.

Here is a problem which is being studied by government officials at Washington—for what Europe thinks of us has a very distinct bearing on international relations, diplomatic, financial, and sociological—and by big men of business, university professors, writers, and a host of others. Yet this host, in relation to the whole American mass, is trifling and the rank and file of Americans are going ahead with their daily affairs with serene independence of European thought, seldom concerning themselves with the old countries save to go over and have a good time.

Yet the idea remains one of fascination to thousands. Many of these thousands say that at the seat of the changes which have taken place in America is the existence of what is called the machine age. The people of the United States have turned so completely to a mechanized existence that they have little in common with old Europe.

The facts of the Machine age would seem to bear out many European opinions. The National Industrial conference board, although not a government agency, works in frequent cooperation with government departments and the latter are familiar with the board's findings and make use of them. This body has just compiled some astounding new statistics on how far the machine age has advanced here.

It is shown that when the thirteen original colonies founded the republic, the population was approximately the same as the present population of Chicago and only half that of the present New York City. The national income was $400,000,000 a year and the national wealth $500,000,000. Today the national income is given by the board as $80,000,000,000 and the national wealth as $336,000,000,000.

Mechanization, in the sense now realized, did not really get under way to any great extent until the close of the last century. The real alteration has come about almost wholly in the twentieth century. The first great advances in the application of machinery came in the manufacturing industries. Figures are given especially for the first quarter of the present century. A certain manufactured output required the labor of 19 men in 1900. In 1914, the first war year, the same output required only 100 workers. In 1925 the number had diminished to only 71.

From 1900 to 1914 the average working time per worker declined 5 per cent and from 1914 to 1925 it declined 9 per cent. In 1920 there began an industrial depression which by 1923 had been overcome. From 1923 to 1925 there was an increase of 5.3 per cent in production but 4.4 per cent fewer men produced these goods. Later census figures are not yet available but the board estimates that there has been a still further diminution in the number of men and an increase in production.

This estimate is borne out by current statistics, not yet officially crystallized by the bureau of the census. Indeed, it has been widely asserted that the unemployment which has been reported is due to the need for fewer and fewer men each year for the production of more and more goods.

Not long ago more than half of the American population was engaged in farming. The machine age, it is believed, will reduce the number of farmers to ten per cent of the total population. With machinery, they will be able to supply all food needs for this country and as large an export surplus as can find a market.

Now because of all this Europe looks askance. M. Valery, who took Anatole France's place as a member of France's Forty Immortals, declares that America has lost his soul through mechanization and must set about recovering it if it is ever to rank on an intellectual basis with Europe. On the other hand, Michael Pupin, who emigrated to America from Siberia, declares that America has a soul. He adds, however, that the machine has a soul and suggests that the combination of man and machine is creating a new, composite type of soul. Georges Ribemont-Dessaignes, a Frenchman, describes the American mentality a savage but says its primitive freshness is invigorating to decadent Europe. Ivan Goll asserts that America can never show Europe a new civilization. He says: "You have only a new organization and the best razors in the world. Razors are not enough."

The men referred to are noted European commentators on world affairs but, in spite of their statements, America appears to have a virility which keeps her going.

Questions And Answers

Q. When was the first national road built that was free from tolls? H. E. D.

A. In 1806, the demand for better means of communication with the West caused Congress to pass an act providing for the construction of a national road from the head waters of the Potomac to the Ohio river, free from tolls. The first section, from Cumberland, Maryland, to Wheeling, West Virginia, was opened for traffic in August, 1818.

Q. How many Catholics and Protestants are there in Germany? M. G.

A. Germany has no state church. The Protestants number about 39,000,000; the Catholics, 23,600,000.

Q. After Grover Cleveland married, did his sister, Rose Cleveland, remain in the White House? D. G. S.

A. When her brother was elected president in 1884, Rose Cleveland discharged the duties of hostess at the White House until his marriage in 1886. After that time, she edited a magazine called Literary Life, published in Chicago and was the author of several books.

Q. When was the first state park? A. G. E.

A. The first state park, of large size, set apart primarily for recreation, was one which is now a famous national park, Yosemite. Congress ceded the valley and a mile wide border around it to California, as a state park in 1865.

Q. How many lives have been saved by the parachute in the last 5 years? T. W. D.

A. As far as is known, the parachute saved 2 lives in 1922, 10 in 1924, 13 in 1925, 16 in 1926, 35 in 1927, and 17 thus far this year, totaling 93. These figures are only an approximation as no reliable check can be kept on jumps made by commercial flyers.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Midsummer brings freakish electrical storms displays to Manhattan Island and instead of a populace hiding under beds or sitting on feather pillows they stared at windows with an admiring "Ahi!" Nobody seems fearful of the flash of lightning and crash of thunder.

As I write, a bright sunny morning was followed by a sudden pall of darkness and streaks of fire began playing tag with the surrounding skyscrapers. The illumination shows a press of faces at every window to watch the heavenly pyrotechnics. There is something buoyant here about a cyclonic storm that sweeps so suddenly in from sea. It clears the atmosphere as refreshingly as the clean patter of rain that follows. The sun pours out in sudden splendor and the whole island has the headiness of a rare glass of wine.

It has always struck me New York acquires a storm jag. After it is all over, there is a cheerfulness and vivacity. The pedestrian's step is lighter. Teamsters indulge a roguish familiarity. The traffic cop unbends and clerks are more ingratiating.

There are many people who, at the approach of a storm, race in their motors to Inspiration Point, a beautiful upward sweep of Riverside Drive. Across in the Jersey Hills the lightning disports with a levity, revealing flashes of the stately Palisades cowered in misty purple.

Then there is the glint of fire on the craft in the Hudson. Sailboats and canoeists seeking harbor. The river ripples with a joyous activity in a storm and in the stretch of apartment houses along the Drive there are thousands of Ajaxes dotted at windows to enjoy the spectacle.

Coogan's Bluff in Harlem also offers a gorgeous view of a storm. In the skyscraper areas it is marvelous how lightning seems to play hide and seek around the topless towers. It has none of the fright of the sudden bolt. Its manner is kittenish.

The submission of pets to the custom of their master is revealed in a little cafe opening at dusk and closing at dawn in the Forties. The proprietor has two dogs, a cat and three canary birds. All sleep all day and are awake all night.

Three first novels of American youths this season have shown a blighted air—fog of futility. The idea, of course, is from the Russian. It is to the credit of a merry nation sales were slight.

And with a half dozen student suicides at Eastern colleges it is obvious there is something the matter somewhere. Either our colleges need a new set of professors or a new set of books. It is not natural healthy young men should lose so quickly all interest in life. Yet when one considers the hopeless drivel written by some of our academic gentlemen in the magazines it is little wonder youth is becoming so mentally tangled and discouraged.

For some time many writers, including myself, have been harping the younger generation is not so wild as pictured. Yet this morning in dropping a friend at an upper Park Avenue apartment house he insisted I run in a moment. It was 9:30 o'clock, and two girls not more than 18 and a young man of about 21 were on their second round of cocktails before breakfast. Fun is fun, but young folk should wait until noon. Drinking before breakfast might stunt their growth.

The need for ordinary politeness is great among New York's motorcycle cops. Their attitude is snarling and impudent—another instance of the mistake in giving authority to those not capable of grasping its meaning. And to those who hoot, "What did you get a ticket for?"—I didn't.

Several New York doctors are discussing cradle rocking pro and con—a great deal I suspect is one. They say the custom is not only unhealthy but in cases dangerous. Some mighty illustrious men and women, however, have survived it. But it does seem a few of us act as though we might have been rocked silly.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

I read this the other day: "The longer man lives the less he uses his legs in walking."

Every grown person, old enough to remember the world as it was before the automobile invaded it, will recall how much more the legs were used for walking. I have in mind a town in the Middle West where all the business and professional men used to walk to the stores and offices.

Today, in that town, it is a rare thing for a man to walk to business. He warms up the flivver or calls his chauffeur. Legs are not used for walking.

It is a pity the times have changed. I do not mean it is a pity the automobile was invented. On the contrary, I rejoice in its invention. It has killed the isolation which made life so gloomy for the country woman. It has added to the convenience and happiness of the human family.

But it's a pity that with the new conditions walking has become so much less common. We are overlooking a health-giving practice. There is no better exercise for anybody than briskly walking. To get out in the open means fresh air, deep breathing, firm muscles, red blood and good appetite.

There are plenty of apparently healthy persons who never walk if they can help it. But where physical indolence of this sort and apparent good health are associated, it is not difficult to find a reasonable explanation for the exception.

The purpose of all exercise is to make the heart breathing deeper and the heart's action more rapid. These stimulated functions cleanse the blood and send it in powerful stream to every part of the body.

Once in a while you meet a person who is so full of enthusiasm and so pleasantly excited all the time over his work that the heart is pounding.

Wave and Sheen is the only product I have found which will keep the hair in perfect trim. Apply it before waving or setting your wave. (I use a comb. It can be applied with a brush.) Then put in your curlers, or set your wave if you have a permanent. By the time you are ready to dress, your hair will have not only a soft, flattering wave but a glorious sheen. On the hottest days you can be happy in the knowledge that your hair is in keeping with your dainty summer toilette. Get a bottle of Wave and Sheen today at any toilet counter. RADIO SINGER, WIFE, OTHERS LOST AT SEA

Find No Trace of Gene Austin After Storm.

FEAR FIVE DEAD

Party in Path of Hurricane While Cruising.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Gene Austin, popular radio singer and balladist of millions of phonograph owners throughout the world is believed to have been lost at sea off the coast of North Carolina during the recent tropical storm along the coast. With Austin were his wife and three other persons, who also are feared lost.

Austin was cruising in his yacht, Blue Heaven, off the southern coast of the United States when he is believed to have been caught in the hurricane, this became known when Aycock Brown of Atlantic Beach, N. C., a friend of Austin's, wired the latter's New York office asking if anything had been heard from Austin since the storm abated.

With Austin, besides his wife, known as Katherine Arnold on the vaudeville stage, were James Bloom, son of Marty Bloom, manager of Austin's New York office, a skipper and a Filipino cook. The party has not been heard from since Wednesday of last week when it was reported sighted off Beaufort, N. C.

The yacht was bound for Southport, N. C., and is several days overdue.

POLICE KILL AS MAN FLEES

Chicagoan is Shot When He Tries to Break Free.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Escaped from a police station by sawing through one of the bars to a window in his cell room, Hans Pate, 25, was shot and killed today when he tried to break free from a detective bureau squad that captured him.

The shooting occurred in front of the house where Pate's wife has been living since his arrest on August 5. He was charged with 58 burglaries, all of which he is said to have confessed.

Pate was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Immenhausen, who fixed bonds at $870,000.

TODAY

A PLEASANT, useful experiment. It would be so pleasant to have on the Pacific or the Atlantic ships from Europe or Asia launching aerial airplanes, bringing explosive bombs and deadly gas bombs. Let's hope this catapulting of planes from ships will confine itself to mail delivery, at least until, if ever, we have a respectable fighting air fleet.

HERBERT HOOVER talked to 70,000 people standing before him, all of whom heard him distinctly, thanks to voice amplifying devices. Millions on the Atlantic seaboard heard him over the radio before he was heard by those 100 yards away in the crowd before him. His voice carried by electricity at 186,000 miles a second went 3,000 miles before his voice carried by sound waves could go 100 yards.

TWENTY-FOUR hours after Herbert Hoover spoke in California he was seen and heard on the Movietone, delivering the same speech. The extraordinary device recording personality and voice had taken "a picture" of Mr. Hoover's speech during rehearsal a few days before the final delivery, and sent it east by air mail.

ON August 22 Governor Smith, of New York, delivers his address of acceptance. The movietone will simultaneously show the governor and allow audiences in theatres all over the country to hear and see the governor speaking. The speaking will begin or the movietone the moment the governor begins to speak before his audience in New York state.

This is something really new in politics and in "publicity."

YEARS ago Howard A. Colby, all-around athlete, gave golf lessons to John D. Rockefeller, already an old man.

Doubtless Mr. Colby expected to outlive his pupil. Mr. Colby died Monday, aged 57; Mr. Rockefeller, in his nineteenth year, is well, with years ahead of him.

Length of life depends on how you live, not on how much you exercise.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT killed himself by unwise exercise, undergoing when past 50 such training as would have strained an athlete of 25.

Mr. Rockefeller prolongs his life by care and moderation. Wise Greeks wrote above their temple, "Nothing in excess."

THE REV. DR. STRATON, who attacked Governor Smith, the Democratic candidate for president, decides that he will not permit Governor Smith to reply to him from the pulpit of his, Dr. Stratton's, New York Baptist church.

Dr. Stratton would like to hire Madison Square Garden or some other big hall for the debate. Governor Smith may conclude wisely that in a debate with a brilliant clergyman it is almost impossible to win and, anyhow, "If you win, you lose," and let the matter drop.

HOOVER IS DRY HIS RECORD IN 1918 PROVES

Bone-dry Enforcement Expected if He is Elected.

QUOTE NOMINEE

Daniel Poling Puts O. K. on Acceptance Speech.

By William K. Hutchinson.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 15.—The American people can expect a bone-dry enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment and modification of the Volstead act to provide stricter enforcement of prohibition if Herbert Hoover is elected president. It was learned today on the highest authority.

All doubt over the Republican nominee's dryness was dissipated through the discovery of two Hoover utterances on prohibition, made back in 1918 under wartime law. A "tempest in a teapot" controversy had raged here since Saturday due to a "wet" interpretation, placed on Hoover's prohibition declaration, by one of his closest political advisers. His dryness, however, had been announced by International News Service on July 25th.

Strict Prohibitionists.

The 1918 utterances revealed Hoover as a strict prohibitionist, as a man who sought to establish temperance in America and as one who deplored the drinking of intoxicating liquors. He announced himself flatly as a "lifelong believer in national temperance." The utterance, a public statement and a letter to Senator Morris Sheppard (D.) of Texas, placed Hoover in the category of the "bone-drys."

If any further doubt might exist as to his dryness, it would disappear through the action of Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald and president of the International society of Christian Endeavor, in endorsing his acceptance speech declaration on prohibition. Poling, one of the outstanding dry leaders, wired Hoover:

"It was economically sound, morally right and a challenge to the highest patriotism. The campaign has all the proportions of a crusade. We shall follow you with enthusiasm."

Letter to Senator.

The letter to Senator Sheppard was written July 4, 1918 in reply to a request from the Texas that Hoover, as food administrator, close breweries throughout the country.

"If brewing is stopped," Hoover replied, "beer would disappear from the liquor trade within one or two months and the whole country would be put practically on a whisky, brandy and gin basis, with some supplies of wine. The saloons would be left open and upon a basis of selling drinks carrying 40 to 50 per cent of alcohol, with some supplies of wine, instead of a large proportion of their customers being served with a drink 24 percent alcoholic content, and therefore, from a temperance viewpoint, much less harmful."

"It raises the very serious moral problem as to whether infinitely more damage will not result from such action than in a continuation of the use of this limited amount of foodstuffs in brewing. It does appear to me that the losses in food are entirely secondary to the moral and physical dangers."

"You are probably aware that I have been a lifelong believer in national temperance."

Begg's Lead Cut

as wet, favored modification of the dry laws, it was stated.

When the late U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, died last spring, Governor Vic Donahue appointed Locher to fill the vacancy on the U. S. senate until a successor to Willis could be elected next November and qualify to fill the unexpired term which ends March 4, 1933.

Senator Fess and Director Truax will oppose each other as candidates for the full six-year U. S. senatorial term ending March 4, 1935.

Unofficial Returns.

Unofficial returns available at the secretary of state's office this morning gave the following results:

Ice cream and other refreshments were distributed to the children. The price on the amusements was reduced to three cents. Forty dollars was given away in penny scramble.

H. M. CARPENTER SENATE WINNER

Harry M. Carpenter, Steubenville, was a winner over Earl R. Lewis, St. Clairsville, for the Republican nomination for state senator from the 20th-22nd district, at yesterday's primary election, according to complete returns from the four counties in the district today.

Carpenter carried Jefferson and Columbiana counties, while Lewis was given a lead in Belmont and Harrison counties. The former's majority in his home county, however, was large enough to easily wipe out the lead given Lewis in the other zones.

Carpenter and Lewis were members of the state senate during the last term, but owing to a redistricting plan this district will have but one senator in the next legislature. Carpenter has already served three terms as senator, while Lewis is finishing his first term.

Here is the vote by counties:

County	Carpenter	Lewis
Columbiana	5,749	5,239
Belmont	1,710	5,768
Jefferson	7,742	1,871
Harrison	1,487	1,615
Totals	16,698	14,483

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—A building housing a candy store and the home of a policeman was wrecked by a bomb today and damaged to the extent of $5,000.

Policeman Louis A. Stachowski, with his wife and five small children, lived in the rear of the store, operated by Mrs. Stachowski. The family narrowly escaped serious injury.

"It must have been some one who had it in for me because of my activities as a policeman," said the officer. "We have had no trouble with racketeers over the operation of the candy store."

lead there was not sufficient to overcome that rolled up elsewhere by his opponent, Dr. Joseph T. Williamson was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

The fight for the G. O. P. nomination for probate judge, won by Lodge Riddle, incumbent, also attracted attention. Riddle's lead over Attorney Homer Hammond, Columbiana attorney, runner-up, was 550. Charles White, Lisbon, finished third, while Frank Ballantine, Salem, trailed. The vote was: Riddle, 4,566; Hammond, 4,016; White, 3,248; Ballantine, 2,176.

Bauknecht Has 568 Majority.

John E. Bauknecht, East Palestine, deputy prosecuting attorney, had a majority of 568 over his two opponents, Attorneys William S. Fouks and Frank Hoover, of this city, for the nomination for prosecuting attorney. Bauknecht carried East Liverpool and also ran ahead in practically every community of the county. The vote was: Bauknecht, 6,915; Fouks, 3,444; Hoover, 2,903.

Train Pigeons for Night Flying

Ordinarily homing pigeons released after dusk remain on the ground until daybreak before starting their journey. So F. W. Jvey, an Atlanta fancier, obtained the co-operation of the Air-mail in releasing birds from the air to teach them night flying. The above picture shows Johnny Kytle, crack pilot, with two of the homing pigeons which now fly as well by night as by day. (International Illustrated News)

Former East Liverpool Potter and Soldier Of Fortune, in Prison, Appeals to Friends

Youth, Who Survived Revolutions and Several Shipwrecks, Writes From Huntsville, Texas, Penitentiary.

A former East Liverpool potter, veteran of the World war and "a couple of revolutions" and a survivor of several shipwrecks, who is now serving in the Texas state prison at Huntsville, Texas, in atonement for "a debt I owe society," today appealed to The Review to locate "my old friends that I knew in the days gone by."

Using the name of "Frank Reed" which he admits is fictitious, the writer declared that he was formerly employed at the Homer Laughlin pottery, working at "everything from a mould runner to kiln-placer." He said that he would reveal his name to any friends who would write, addressing him as Frank Reed, Postoffice Box No. 32, Texas State Prison, Huntsville, Texas.

Two years ago, the writer said, he suffered the amputation of a foot as the result of an automobile accident. In his letter the prisoner gave the names of several local people whom he remembered before he entered the army during the World war. He also made reference to Rock Springs park where he attended dances and "wienle

Prisoner's Letter.

Under date of July 25, the prisoner wrote the Review as follows:

"As a past resident of your city, I am writing this to try to get in touch with people that I knew in the days gone by."

"Destiny, or the goddess of chance, has decreed that I spend a number of years in the state prison here to pay a debt I owe society, to justify the ever-exacting law. To say that I am not guilty would be an untruth, yet it is my desire to serve my sentence, a model prisoner, taking every possible chance to better myself both morally and in my education."

"To do this I must appeal to the friends of the past or to others who can afford and desire to assist. Correspondents are a great help to one in loneliness. Then there are many things that are to be appreciated here that are not obtainable without money—magazines, cigarettes and toilet necessities."

"This is not to say that conditions are bad here. They are good. Not to infer that I am treated unjustly for I am not. I have a desire to pay the penalty that the law exacts. Still I would like to hear from some of my old friends that I knew in the days gone by."

"When I left East Liverpool for France, I was working for the Homer Laughlin China company. I had work ed in all units, also in Chester, on the other side of the river.

"I worked under 'Pan' Smith, Dwight Birch and several other foremen. I also worked with Conley, Logan and Jimmie Hicks in the packing shed, and with the Hendricks brothers—Claude and Harry—the Davis brothers—Scotty, Val and Mike and Charley Rose of the clay shops."

"I lived in East End and used to play ball with Joseph Johnson, Claude Ruckman, 'Rabbit' and Pete Eck. I also knew Ben and Frank Fisher."

"Since leaving East Liverpool I have seen the World War from a front seat. I have spent four years in the Tropics and in South America, saw a couple of revolutions, been in several shipwrecks and two years ago I had the misfortune of losing one of my feet in an automobile wreck. So you see fate has been unkind to me."

"I am young. Rock Springs park was very well known to me. Most of those that danced there were my friends. I can still recall several 'wienle roasts' vividly."

"In return for such favors as I ask, cigarettes, etc., I promise to write, telling of the things I have seen and experienced."

"Won't someone write? Won't you publish this letter? Please do. The name, by the way, is an alias. I will gladly tell any one my real name if they will write me, addressing Frank Reed, Postoffice Box No. 32, Texas State Prison, Huntsville, Texas."

Begg Wins Wellsville District Over Cooper

Congressman Has Plurality of More Than 200 in 12 Precincts in City and Two Adjoining Townships.

Nine Wellsville precincts, together with two in Yellow Creek and one at Glasgow gave James T. Begg, Republican gubernatorial candidate, a plurality of more than 200 votes over Myers Y. Cooper in yesterday's primary balloting here; favored State Senator Earl Lewis over Harry M. Carpenter; returned Homer Hammond a winner, locally, for probate judge; gave John Noble a decisive majority in the clerkship fight, and voted William Barlow a plurality of approximately 100 in the sheriff contest.

While the afternoon vote failed to develop to the extent anticipated by election officials, 1,498 votes were cast for sheriff, and 1415 for governor. In all approximately 1600 ballots were dropped in the boxes.

McKinley Leads Field

William E. McKinley, young Columbus lawyer, a native of Toronto and a graduate of East Liverpool high school, led the field in the 12 precincts for lieutenant governor, long term.

William S. Foulks, East Liverpool, candidate for prosecutor nomination, trailed John Bauknecht, incumbent, by 60 votes in the 12 precincts.

William Barlow, sheriff candidate, won five out of the nine city precincts and took all three rural districts. Noble, clerkship aspirant, won all but one precinct in the city and lost but one in the county.

VanFossan and Smith were first and second, respectively, in the three-cornered race for state representative.

Martin L. Davey of Kent, Democratic candidate for governor, polled 76 votes, Bloom getting 19 and Beatty 15.

MRS. FORNER ROTARY GUEST

Former Teacher Honored at Ladies' Night Meeting.

Mrs. Naomi Forner, Wellsville resident, who taught "reading, writing, and 'rithmetic'" here 53 years ago in the "little red school", and who, according to her own admission, was just as "scared" as any of her pupils when she first became a "schoolmarm", was honored by members of the Wellsville Rotary club at a dinner last night in the Riverview hotel.

The event was a belated acknowledgment of Mrs. Forner's retirement from active school instruction after establishing a record of its kind that likely will stand for years here.

The affair took on the nature of a ladies' night meeting. In addition, approximately 25 former pupils of Mrs. Forner's various classes attended the event. In all there were more than 75 present.

"I have felt at times," said Mrs. Forner at an informal reception following the dinner and program, "that my efforts have gone unnoticed, but now, after this, I feel sure they haven't."

Mrs. Forner was introduced by President F. L. Wells who said of her "a person who builds character builds more than he who builds in marble."

In a short talk, the honor guest reminisced over her long period as a teacher.

Superintendent of Schools, S. E. Daw compared the old school with the school of today; pointed out that the old school looked upon education as a preparation for life whereas the modern school looks upon it as life; and declared that the new school is designed to give a better understanding of life in general.

Brief talks were given by Miss Jennie Dixon, Pittsburgh; Miss Mary McDonald, Cincinnati; Prof. Ross MacLean, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Margaret Beaumont, New Cumberland.

Mrs. Frances Whitacre Morton sang "Homeing", and George B. Imbrie, "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling".

In behalf of the club C. W. Arnold presented Mrs. Forner with a bouquet of roses.

KIWANIANS HEAR FARM BILL TALK

Discussing various phases of the McNary-Haugen bill designed to provide relief for farmers, Prof. W. C. Peterson, head of the department of political science of Geneva college, Beaver Falls, Pa., addressed Wellsville Kiwanis club members at their noon luncheon meeting yesterday in the United Presbyterian church.

He discussed farmers and their problems in comparison to business men, industrialists and their difficulties.

He analyzed the bill and the equalization clause so widely discussed, pointing out that economic laws would not permit its adoption.

Prof. Peterson was introduced by Superintendent of Schools S. E. Daw who is teaching during the summer period at Geneva college.

L. G. Aughinbaugh presided. Announcement was made that delegates to the state convention would be elected next Tuesday.

Prof. Ross MacLean, of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. MacLean, Wellsville, was a guest of the club.

Release also was obtained by Miss Helen Yerger, home economics teacher, who will go to Pennsylvania. Her place will be filled by Miss Anna R. Bundy, of St. Clairsville. Miss Bundy is a graduate of Ohio State university and is experienced in her duties.

Miss Marguerita Wilsing of New Brighton, Pa., has been assigned to the special class of ungraded pupils. This class will be established this fall. Miss Wilsing has had two years of preparation for this type of work. The class will be conducted at the MacDonald building.

Compensation Case Appealed. An appeal from the decision of the state industrial commission has been taken to common pleas court in the case of Mary George of Salineville, whose husband died as a result of injuries while he was employed by the Ohio Power company on May 13 last.

The wife asked for compensation, and this was denied, the commission holding that the evidence presented did not support the claim that the cause of death resulted from the husband's usual employment.

The appeal petition has been filed by Attorney G. Jay Clark.

German Girls Making Huenfeld Cap Named For Bremen Crew

BERLIN—American girls had their "Lindbergh hat" and German girls are now wearing their "Huenfeld cap." The "Huenfeld cap" is modeled after the fier's cap of Baron Guenther von Huenfeld, member of the "Bremen" crew that flew to America. The "Huenfeld cap" has a monocle sewed to it.

This because the monocle is one of the characteristic symbols of the "flying baron," and though the number of monocle-wearing girls has been increasing in Germany as well, it is not so easy for every girl to hold it steadily and still make her face look natural. The "flying baron" wore his monocle all across the Atlantic and lost it only when a rose thrown by a fair hand at the auto of the "Bremen" crew during the reception in Bremen struck him in the eye.

County Tax Levy Gets Boost to 71 Cents

Increase of Seven Cents Per $100 Valuation Voted at Session of Commissioners.

Seven cents per $100 valuation were added to Hancock county taxes when the county commissioners yesterday fixed 71 cents as the levy for the coming fiscal year. The increase, it was pointed out, is for road maintenance purposes. The total valuation is $24,424,662, or an increase of approximately $500,000 over that of last year. Most of it is attributed to the erection of the new steel plant at Weirton, Butler district. The valuation figures for Chester and Grant district follow: Chester — Real estate, $2,437,339; personal, $699,910; public utilities, $525,592; total, $3,662,841. Longfellow Home Is Sacrificed for New High School

PITTSFIELD, Mass. — Another of New England's historic landmarks has been sacrificed to the demands of progress. The latest victim of this city's expansion is the old house of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow on East street, long one of Pittsfield's points of interest. It was in this house that Longfellow is supposed to have written one of the most popular of his poems, "The Clock on the Stairs." The City Council at a recent meeting voted to take the property, on which the landmark is located for the erection of a new high school. A sum of $78,000 was voted by the council to pay for the property.

NORTH GEORGETOWN CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION ON SUNDAY, SEPT. 9

Pioneer Residents Also Plan Observance of Founding of School
With Reunion at Lake
Placentia.

LISBON, O., Aug. 15.—Pioneer residents and their families and friends will observe the centennial anniversary of the founding of North Georgetown and the North Georgetown school with a reunion at Lake Placentia on Sunday, Sept. 9. Between 2,000 and 3,000 persons are expected to attend.

North Georgetown, a hamlet of 200 people, occupies an elevated tract at the intersection of the North Georgetown Valley and the North Georgetown-Homestead road. The north portion was platted by George Stitzer and the south portion by John White-leather. The first building erected was a log cabin, in 1828, by John Weaver. Two years later the hamlet was platted.

Erected Hotel in 1833.
In 1833 a hotel or inn was erected by Jacob Ritter, who operated it for several years. Later the inn was in charge of George Wolf, Alexander Crump, David Eckstine, David Summerson and Samuel Sturgeon. When Sturgeon died, the hotel suspended operations. In 1874, however, another hotel was opened at North Georgetown, under the management of Jacob Kuntz.

The first school in Knox township was established in a log cabin, built by Samuel Thomas in Section 29. The first teacher was Samuel Thomas. In 1826, the township contained four school districts, and in 1832 it was divided into 11 school districts. District No. 11 was divided in 1839. Twelve teachers were employed in the summer season and 14 in the winter. In the early days the cost of school upkeep in Knox township was about $2,700 annually.

First Church Service in 1816.
The first church service in Knox township was held in a woods in 1816 when the Rev. Robert Semple, of the Hartford, Conn., presbytery, preached. Later a church was erected, and on Nov. 10, 1821 a Presbyterian congregation was organized by the Rev. John Core. There were nine members of the first church, these coming from the families of Moses, Thomas and John Gilson, Henry Estep, Benjamin Anderson and Cornelius Sheehan. The first elders were Moses Gilson and Henry Estep.

On June 2, 1822, the first sacrament was administered by the Rev. James Robertson, who was assisted by the Rev. Joshua Bear. This service was held in the woods, and during the hour of worship a terrific storm swept over the territory. A tree was blown over, killed Mrs. Jacob Shaffer and her infant. The Rev. Mr. Robertson for that occasion had chosen Zachariah 9:12 as his text: "Turn you to the stronghold, ye prisoners of hope; even today do I declare that I will render double unto thee."

In 1843 while the Rev. Joshua Bear was preaching from the text found in Revelations 5:20, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock," he was suddenly taken ill during his sermon, removed to his home, and a few days later died.

can't buy better heat

Constant circulation of moist, warm air—nature's plan—provides the best heat money can buy. This is the Holland Vaporaire principle. Heating response is quick and positive. Warmth is distributed in measured volumes to every room. Uniform temperature and proper humidity are maintained constantly and automatically. Floors are warm and draft-free. The air—always in motion—teems with energy. Lifeless air in the average home—drier than desert air—is a prevalent cause of discomfort and ill-health. A Holland costs no more than ordinary heating plants.

For large homes the Deluxe System, combining advantages of heating-cooling installations used in modern theaters, schools and hospitals, provides year around comfort. For every home, large or small, costly or modest, there's a Holland that guarantees comfort, cleanliness, convenience and economy, requires only two firings daily and uses from 10% to 35% less fuel—which practically pays for the system. Order now and assure installation before the first chilly day. Purchase may be made on deferred payments. Get the facts and you'll get a Holland.

LIGHTS of NEW YORK

From the Warner Brothers Vitaphone Picture
Story by Hugh Herbert and Murray Roth...

Pictures by HANLON

SYNOPSIS: Eddie Morgan and his friend, Gene, tired of life in a little upper New York State town, buy a barber shop in New York. They discover in a short time that it is a blind for a speakeasy. Eddie's girl, Kitty, is working in a night club. The owner, Hawk, is friendly with Eddie, but annoys Kitty with his attentions. Molly, Hawk's girl, is jealous of Kitty. A policeman is mysteriously murdered. The only clue is a case of Old Century whiskey, sold by very few speakeasies and clubs in New York. Kitty complains to Eddie about Hawk, and Eddie gives her a small revolver, telling her to fire it into the air if she becomes afraid of Hawk. Eddie, not suspecting a frame-up, removes several cases of Old Century whiskey from Hawk's club. Molly hears Hawk propose an elopement with Kitty and threatens him. Hawk orders his gangsters to "take Eddie for a ride." Discovery of the whiskey in the barber shop and Eddie's disappearance would be enough evidence to convict Eddie of the murder. Kitty hears Hawk tell detectives to go to Eddie's shop at 10 p. m. She warns Eddie by telephone.

Courtesy N. Y. Daily Mirror

SO Hawk framed a friend! And Eddie had believed that the night club owner was one of the best friends he had in New York. Kitty had told him to be suspicious of Hawk, and Eddie had thought her unnecessarily alarmed. But there is no time to think of Hawk's treachery. The Old Century whiskey must be removed immediately from the barber shop and be put where it cannot be found. There is only one thing to do, to pile it into his automobile again, take it to the water front and dump it into the river. He will have to work fast, for the hour set by Hawk for the detectives to be in Eddie's shop is fast approaching. Luck again plays into Eddie's hands. He is soon speeding with the cargo to the river front and the last case strikes the water.

HAWK, according to his agreement with the detectives, goes to the barbershop. He does not expect to see Eddie. His two gangsters had promised to attend to that. He is startled when Eddie enters the door. So, in some way, Eddie had avoided being "taken for a ride!" "Hell! Eddie," says Hawk shaking hands with the boy. "Didn't expect to see you here."

"NO, I know you didn't, Hawk," answer Eddie. "You thought you'd frame me, didn't you? You knew the police are looking for Old Century whiskey. You thought you'd dump it onto me. Well, I protected myself. It's not here. Hawk is raging and he is beginning to be terrified. The frame-up is frustrated. The detectives are on the way. (To Be Continued.)"

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am twenty-three years of age and go with a young man of twenty years. We are engaged to be married. I love him and he loves me, but I do not know whether I should marry him or not.

He is extremely jealous. I can never go anywhere without him, for he always gets very angry. Also, his education is not very much and his English at times is poor and very noticeable.

Do you think I would be happily married to him or do you think the differences of education, age and his jealousy would ruin our future happiness? Everyone tells me not to consider marrying him, for they are sure his jealousy would make my life miserable after marriage. What shall I do?

WORRIED PEG.

WORRIED PEG: It might be best if you waited awhile and were absolutely sure of yourself before marrying. If you are criticizing the young man now, my dear, in the manner your letter indicates, it shows that your love is not as deep as you thought it to be. His jealousy would probably make you very unhappy and it might be best if you broke your engagement until you were sure of yourself. If your love would stand the test of a broken engagement, then you could be more sure of your love after marriage. However, you know your own heart best, but personally, I should not care to risk my life and happiness with a man whom I felt would make each day a bit more miserable.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and would like to know the following:

1.—Is it correct for a girl to take a boy's arm when out walking?

2.—Who should alight from a street car first?

3.—What time is it proper for a boy to leave when calling on a girl?

A. H.: No, A. H., it is never correct to take a young man's arm when walking. He should take your arm to escort you across the street or through a crowd. But it is distinctly bad form to walk arm in arm.

2.—The young man, in order to assist the lady.

3.—That depends on her parents. However, I should think ten thirty or eleven would be about right.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I have been going with a girl steady for three years. We are not engaged. This girl insists on going with other friends. She says she does not care for them, but likes to go out with them for a change.

Should I continue on going with this girl?

Please advise me what to do.

WONDERING.

WONDERING: As you are not engaged to the young lady, you have no right to attempt to limit her friendships. Wondering, if you care enough for her to ask her to be your wife, then you would both be more or less limited in your friendships with the opposite sex.

The first record broken was in regard to brevity. His talk consisted of a total of eight words. They were: "Well, I guess I've got to do it."

The second record to fall before his unordinary character was in regard to the size of audience that heard the acceptance. This number reached a total of one. Thomas Annear, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, was the only other person in the room.

Where a Little Money Goes a Long Way

FOR less than you would spend on an evening's entertainment, you can enjoy a call with old friends who live a hundred miles or more away.

From corner to corner of the state is a full day's drive or many long hours' journey by rail. By telephone, the trip can be made almost instantly, and calling by number only, at a cost of only $1.55.

Calling by number, you can be connected with any distant town while you hold the line—often in less than a minute. If you do not know the number, ask for the Information operator. She will be glad to obtain it for you.

The next time you have occasion for out-of-town communication, try Long Distance; then you will use it every time.

The cost of out-of-town telephone service is surprisingly low, as the rates on a few typical calls will show. For instance, calling by number during the day from Columbus to Dayton costs only $1.55—

Columbus to Cleveland, $.85.
Columbus to Indianapolis, $1.05.
Springfield to Detroit, $1.05.
Zanesville to Pittsburgh, $.75.
Steubenville to Columbus, $.85.
Columbus to New York, $2.30.
Dayton to Chicago, $1.35.

VICTOR M'LAGLEN IN ANOTHER HIT

"Hangman's House," Fox Films screen version of Donn Byrne's great novel made under the direction of John Ford, now at the Ceramic theater, has scored a tremendous hit with patrons and hardened critics of this city and vicinity.

Victor McLaglen repeats his historic triumphs of "What Price Glory," "A Girl in Every Port" and "Mother Macbride." In fact, he surpasses the roles that made him famous, with his characterization of Citizen Hogan, the avenging soldier of the Foreign Legion, in this gripping romance of Ireland.

But McLaglen is not the only actor in this production. June Collyer, Larry Kent, Earle Foxe, Hobart Bosworth among others of this veritable all star cast give performances that help make this production one of the outstanding screen entertainments of the present season.

Ford has perhaps never reached the heights of direction which he achieves in this production, even though his "Iron Horse," "Three Bad Men," "Four Sons" and "Mother Macbride" are remembered. For it was this young genius who directed them all. But in "Hangman's House" he has a production that in the opinion of many surpasses all his previous efforts. Decidedly a picture no one could miss.

MULHALL STARS IN "MAN CRAZY"

Jack Mulhall, one of the most popular leading men of the screen, finds his popularity growing with each picture and his latest, "Man Crazy" now at the American theater, again establishes him as one of the best light comedians in the films.

In "Man Crazy" Mulhall is again so featured with pretty Dorothy Mackall. The pictureization of Grace Sertwell Mason's Saturday Evening Post story is an ideal vehicle for both Mulhall and Miss Mackall. Called "Clarissa and the Post Road" in its original form, "Man Crazy" tells of the heiress in an aristocratic New England family who falls in love with a truck driver. Mulhall is the truck driver, of course, and the complications that ensue give both he and his co-featured players plenty of opportunity for their extensive talents.

"Man Crazy" was directed by John Francis Dillon, and produced by Charles R. Rogers for First National Pictures. The cast includes Edythe Chapman, Phillips Smalley, Walter McGrath, Ray Hallor and many others.

This picture again demonstrated that the Mulhall-Mackall team is one of the most popular in pictures, and that the First National executives know how to pick suitable vehicles for these clever players.

"Man Crazy" has a pretty romance, and many moments of suspense and thrills. It is proving popular with movie fans of this city at every performance.
